French Film Tops Record
The French language film, "Lucretia Borgia," has broken 10-year attendance records, for a non-holiday period, at Brand's 42nd St. Apollo Theatre. The film, which has English sub-titles, is in its third week also at Brand's Atlantic Playhouse, Brooklyn, where it will continue indefinitely.

The New York Times

The revival of the French film, "Lucretia Borgia," now at the Apollo Theatre on West Forty-second Street, recorded a record paid-admission total of 22,046, according to the management. This, it was announced, "has broken every attendance record for a non-holiday period in the ten years of the present operation" of the theatre.
